

Curatorial Volunteer
Exhibitions Department
Mid-September 2014 – July 2015
1 day per week

The Royal Academy of Arts runs a world-class exhibition programme across the Main Galleries, the Sackler Wing of Galleries and 6 Burlington Gardens.

We have an opportunity for a student currently enrolled in a full or part-time undergraduate or taught postgraduate degree in History of Art, Curating or Museum Studies to gain first-hand experience of the process of planning and developing temporary loan exhibitions. The successful candidate will be articulate and confident, have a keen interest in history of art and exhibitions, together with demonstrable research and excellent written and oral communication skills.

We are seeking a commitment of one day per week across the full academic year (mid-September to July), during which time the candidate will have the opportunity to observe and contribute to the progress of particular exhibitions.

The RA will reimburse reasonable travel expenses within London to/from work up to £10 per day and provides a half-price discount at the RA restaurant (not between 12-2pm), half price discount at the RA café, 30% discount at Atelier (in 6 Burlington Gardens) and 20% discount at the RA Shop. Other benefits include free access to all RA Exhibitions and free entry to many exhibitions in major London galleries and museums.

If you would like to be considered for this opportunity, please send your CV with a covering letter outlining how you feel you meet the criteria to recruitment@royalacademy.org.uk.
